Don't Send Him in Tomorrow

Shining a light on the marginalised, disenfranchised and forgotten children of today's schools

Defeating Destiny

Launch of the South Gloucestershire Inclusion Toolkit

Jarlath O'Brien

Why should you give me the time of day?

- Secondary trained physics teacher
- Worked across all age ranges, mainstream/independent/special
- Headteacher (and EHT) since 2011
- Improved behaviour from RI to outstanding in 15 months
  - Year before I started – 320 sessions of FTE (in a school of c120 students)
  - My first year– 204 sessions of FTE, by year three – 0 FTE
- Currently interim HT of a residential SEMH school
- I'm you, just 70 miles away

Defeating destiny

- I am likely to die at least 15 years earlier than my peers.
- I am twice as likely to be bullied at primary school as my peers.
- I am five times more likely to receive a fixed-term exclusion from school than my peers.
- I am five times more likely to receive a permanent exclusion from school than my peers.
- Once I've left school I will be seven times less likely to work than my peers.
- If I do work, it will probably be part-time. It will probably be poorly paid.
- I am twice as likely to live in poverty as my peers.
- I am over four times more likely to have mental health problems as a child than my peers.
- I am more likely to have children with their own learning difficulties than my peers.
- I am at least three times more likely to end up in prison than my peers.

Challenges

- Atomised system – competition, norm-referenced exam system, teacher shortages, MAT communities
- Performativity culture – some children are riskier to have on roll than others
- Money
- Mainstream is partly self-defined

Percentage of pupils with a statement or EHC plan by type of provision, England, 2010-2019:

Leadership lessons and possible solutions

- Getting the culture right in school
- Collaborating and eliminating competition and judgement
- Storytelling
- The C word
- Sharing information
- A sense of belonging
- Screening
- Parents
- Motivation

Culture in school - language

- Eliminate mind traps (aka cognitive distortion* or faulty thinking)
  - labelling
  - all-or-nothing demands
  - ignoring positives and focusing on negatives
  - catastrophising
  - the fallacy of control
  - prediction of failure (aka the fortune-teller error)
- “We plan for success in this school. Now, what help do you need?”
- Decide where you stand on the following labels:
  - high/low/middle ability
  - bottom set

Culture in school - expectations

- “Is your culture by design or by default?” – Mark Finnis
- “We have low expectations” – said no school ever, however...
  - colouring in
  - free time
  - leaving lessons early
  - worksheet, worksheet, worksheet

Key leadership lesson

- Challenge negativity and low expectations each and every time it is encountered

Storytelling

- Because little of the impact of schools is evident when children are with you or at the point of leaving
- “Dear Mr O’Brien,
Your recent blood donation was used this week at Birmingham Children’s Hospital”

Key leadership lesson

- Broaden your definition, and your students’ understanding, of what it means to be successful
- “A teacher affects eternity; they can never tell where their influence ends.” – Henry Adams

The C word - consistency

- “Children do well if they can. If they’re not doing well it’s because they lack the skills to do well.” – Dr Ross Greene
- All behaviour is the right behaviour. It’s an attempt to have your needs met.
- “When I hear about interventions for people with autism, I read “Let’s make them more like us”” – Mark Neary

Key leadership lesson

- Creating the conditions for all of your community to thrive requires actions consistent with your values
- NOT consistency of action

Motivation

- Intrinsic – satisfaction, accomplishment
- Extrinsic – rules are of value, rule-following, carrot n stick
  - Can encourage the bare minimum and a 'What's in it for me?' attitude

Key leadership lesson

- Understand the limitations of rewards, punishments, reports
- Focus on recognition and building intrinsic motivation
- ~~Catch them being good~~
- Catch them being better

Using information

- What proportion of all children receive at least one FTE in their secondary school life?*
  - 0.016%
  - 0.16%
  - 1.6%
  - 16%
- What about for Black Caribbean and Mixed White/Black Caribbean children?

*<https://ora.ox.ac.uk/objects/uuid:98d69480-56fe-4633-8dbe-81c4f461f28f>

Using information - bias

- “The relationship between ethnicity and the odds of experiencing one or more FTE remains large and significant even after controlling for all these other variables.”
- “Nearly every ethnic minority group reaches a permanent exclusion on average after fewer FTEs than White British students and all but the Irish students reach a permanent exclusion having experienced FTEs of longer average duration than the White British students. These data are consistent with a degree of systemic discrimination.”

Key leadership lesson

- Look at information over the school life of your students
- Proactively look for systemic bias

Sharing information

- Builds confidence that things are working
- Focuses and sustains effort
- Makes it as easy as possible for governors to do their job well

From top of top tier for PEX in 2014/15 to second lowest and continuing downwards, a huge thank you to Lincolnshire school leaders and their staff. No off-rolling into AP behind our progress; just inclusion.

• To work this requires:

- absolute trust
- no judgement
- a NATO mindset

Key leadership lesson

- Decide what information is important across the LA, commit to sharing and publishing it, and commit to mutual support

A sense of belonging

- Carol Goodenow's psychological sense of school membership scale* (18 Qs)
  - People here know I can do good work.
  - It is hard for people like me to be accepted here.
  - Other students here like me the way I am.
- Do you withhold access to certain enjoyable activities as a punitive measure, or to incentivise good conduct?
- Some children find it harder to feel and be successful in school than others

Key leadership lesson

- Act on what the students who find it hardest to be successful at your school have to say about their sense of belonging.

Screening

- Lindsay and Dockerell (2012) found that children with SLCN needs are 35 – 50% more likely to have behavioural, emotional and social difficulties.<sup>3 4 5 6</sup>
- Children with persistent developmental language disorder from preschool to early primary years may be more likely to have behavioural difficulties<sup>7,8</sup>
- When viewed in the other direction, there is research suggesting that a large majority of children with emotional and behavioural disorders have significant unidentified language deficits<sup>9</sup>.
- If communication difficulties persist into childhood and adolescence it can be harder to spot and is more likely to be labelled as a behaviour difficulty<sup>1</sup>. It can result in children giving up when faced with a lack of understanding about what is required<sup>2</sup>

Key leadership lesson

- Ensure SLCN and literacy screening happen when concerns arise

Parents

- “This school has gone right downhill since you started”
- Experts in their child

Key leadership lesson

- Communicate early
- Communicate when things go well

Things I didn't say enough about...

- Staff – induction, development and retention (Bandura's self-efficacy*)
- Outreach support – make it strategic
- Setting by “ability”

My family

My world! A parent's perspective.

What worked well

1

- Being listened to
- Good two way communication
- All helped to understand the needs of my child

2

- Knowing my child
- Involving us in the planning and reviewing of any support
- Ensuring the support or goals were what he needed

3

- Open and honest -understand expectations
- We worked well together
- Trust

Co production is crucial

If you want to know how a pair of shoes fit

You don't ask the person who designed the shoes,

You don't ask the person who made the shoes

And you don't ask the person who bought the shoes.

You ask the person who wears the shoes.

In signing this charter, we commit to working together to ensure that the principles of effective co-production underpin the shaping and improvement of support and interventions which affect the long term outcomes of children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND). This is so that we can meet our SEND strategy vision of "Enabling children with SEND to achieve their potential and aspirations in a caring and supportive community".

Co-production definition
Co-production is about trust and builds upon transparency, open communication and equal value being given to each participant's contribution.
Co-production happens when all team members together agree outcomes, co-produce recommendations, plans, actions and resources as a collective.
It is an approach which builds upon meaningful participation and assumes effective consultation and information.

Co-production	Doing with In equal and reciprocal partnership
Co-design
Engagement	Doing for Engaging and involving people
Consultation
Informing
Tokenism	Doing to Trying to fix people who are passive
Coercion

South Gloucestershire Area Co-production Charter

Monitor, evaluation and embedding
To ensure effective co-production is happening we will:

- review how well we are embedding co-production by measuring how we work using the co-production quality indicators as part of our annual self-evaluation,
- measure our impact
- always challenge ourselves to learn, improve and to recognise the positives.

Improvement priorities...

1. For boys and girls to attain and progress at a similar level.
2. For every child to be an effective communicator.
3. For children with SEND to achieve to the best of their ability.
4. To create strong and positive relationships within and around the school community.
5. To increase the attendance of pupils with SEND.

Strengths

- Progress for all children with (SEND)
- Quality SALT provision
- Specialized support for children with additional Speech and Language needs.
